New Year for JLP: Kick-off of 2018

Jugaad Leadership Program(JLP) is proud to present its 2018 cohort. These emerging leaders will go through a seven-month intensive leadership training that will prepare them to serve our community in numerous capacities.

On Friday, March 2, 2018, JLP hosted its third kick-off at the Tuscan Event Center in St. Cloud. More than 50 sponsors, partners, presenters, and community leaders and members joined the board to celebrate the start of the 2018 program.

City of St. Cloud Mayor Dave Kleis gave a welcome speech to the distinguished guests and audience members. He again reaffirmed his support for the program and its importance in growing the next generation of leaders.

Mayor Kleis also praised past graduates and leaders of the program for their continuing service to various boards and commissions in the Central Minnesota particularly in the City of St. Cloud.

JLP's 2018 cohort welcomed 12 new emerging leaders. This year's JLP emerging leaders will go through a rigorous program designed by the advisory board and presenters tailored to increase social capital, and empower them with intricate skills and tools to be successful global citizens.

JLP Development: Mentoring Program

Jugaad Leadership Program is proud to announce new developments and additions. In order to foster a greater relationship among our graduates, current cohort, and supporters, JLP is piloting a new mentoring program.

Through the support of various entities, JLP has been able to "Train, Place, and Connect" our emerging leaders.

After few months of designing and discussion, JLP advisory board launched the program with an exciting new model. It will benefit not only the current cohort but also provide a platform and opportunity for our graduates.

If you are interested in mentoring or to be a mentee, please connect with JLP Advisory Board Chair Eunice Adjei.
